Other Indie Favorites

Freshwater: A Novel, by Akwaeke Emezi (Grove Press, $24)

"Freshwater reads like the result of a dinner party hosted by Chimamanda Adichie, with a guest list featuring Octavia Butler, Neil Gaiman, Salman Rushdie, Helen Oyeyemi, and several preeminent cultural and sociological scholars. Freshwater follows Ada through her early life in Nigeria and her emigration to America, where she is trailed by forces from the lands she left behind. It gives us new vocabulary and territories for exploring the awkwardness of intersections that we encounter—gender, culture, tradition, history, personal mythology—and how one might go about locating herself in the pull of so many competing influences." —Sarah Bumstead, Vroman's Bookstore, Pasadena, CA

Mothers of Sparta: A Memoir in Pieces, by Dawn Davies (Flatiron Books, $24.99)

"It has been many years since I can recall encountering such a moving collection of essays. Dawn Davies paints a searing account of her life, from the dating years through the joys and the darkness of motherhood. This engaging debut combines striking prose with fearless honesty to create a profound and thoughtful work. It is a completely immersive experience and one that will leave readers with much to contemplate long after they turn the last exquisite page." —Pamela Klinger-Horn, Excelsior Bay Books, Excelsior, MN
