THE COLDEST WINTER: America and the Korean War, by David Halberstam (Hyperion, $35, 9781401300524/1401300529) "This eagerly awaited work by the late journalist / historian examines the causes, course, and effects of the Korean War. Halberstam focuses on the bravery of the soldiers on both sides, shows the consequences of poor strategic thinking, and weaves a dense historical context for a better understanding of the war. This will become the definitive work on that conflict."—John Pollock, The Hickory Stick Bookshop, Washington Depot, CT

BORN STANDING UP: A Comic's Life, by Steve Martin (Scribner, $25, 9781416553649/1416553649) "A thoroughly enjoyable and revelatory read, this memoir of Martin's early days as a hard-working, budding comedian reminds us he was the originator of a comedy style we now take for granted: absurd, ironic, and full of non sequiturs. This book is yet more proof of Martin's incredible talent."—Marie du Vaure, Vroman's Bookstore, Pasadena, CA

THE YEAR OF LIVING BIBLICALLY: One Man's Humble Quest to Follow the Bible as Literally as Possible, by A.J. Jacobs (Simon & Schuster, $25, 9780743291477/0743291476) "The most compulsive spiritual seeker ever tries to live by biblical law for an entire year. Jacobs' funny, thoughtful book gets its left from his sincere attempts to practice what others preach, and readers will find themselves rethinking these laws, and the cultures that live by them."—Karen Maeda Allman, The Elliott Bay Book Company, Seattle, WA
