Other Indie Favorites

The Outrun, by Amy Liptrot (W.W. Norton, $25.95) "After escaping to London from her isolated Orkney Island home, Liptrot self-medicates through her 20s until she has lost her lover and most of her friends and belongings. Stumbling to understand her alcoholic choices and looking for change, she returns to the isles. In The Outrun, Liptrot writes of her mostly solitary life, using technology to stay in touch and to explore the isles. Her minute-by-minute struggle to stay sober counterbalances the ebb and flow of the ocean and winds and the passing seasons. This debut is striking and compelling. I was enthralled by Liptrot's descriptions of the islands, their history, geology, and living beings. I rooted for her recovery and personal discoveries." —Becky Milner, Vintage Books, Vancouver, WA

The Standard Grand: A Novel, by Jay Baron Nicorvo (St. Martin's Press, $26.99) "Jay Baron Nicorvo's novel envelops you in a world most civilians never know, where homeless veterans gather to work on regaining their hearts and minds. The reader is a listener, learning about these characters through each of their voices, accents, idioms, and military jargon—sometimes mean and ugly, sometimes only vaguely understood. Even in their hidden Catskills retreat, there is a realization that they are not beyond the reach of a sinister corporate world waging another, more personal war for oil. The Standard Grand is sculpture, a work of art with every word, every detail, perfect." —Diane Marie Steggerda, The Bookman, Grand Haven, MI
