

BANNED BOOKS

INDEPENDENT BOOKSELLER • RECOMMENDATIONS
BOOK SENSE PICKS

1. TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD, by Harper Lee (Harper Perennial, $12.95 paper, 0060935464; Deluxe Paperback Classic edition, $15.95, 0061120081) “One of my all-time favorite books is also on the list compiled by the American Library Association of the 100 Most Frequently Challenged Books. Do yourself a favor and read Lee’s novel, which examines prejudice and racial injustice and which reminds us of the difference one person can make.”—Patti McCall, Queen Anne Books, Seattle, WA

2. GEOGRAPHY CLUB, by Brent Hartinger (Harper Tempest, $6.99 paper, 0060012234) “Repeatedly challenged by school districts, and in 2005 banned in a Tacoma, Washington school, Geography Club is one of the few young adult novels dealing with gay teens in a straightforward, engaging storyline. An important book for and about a group of young readers who have few other titles that speak to them.”—Cheryl McKeon, Third Place Books, Lake Forest Park, WA

3. THE GIVER, by Lois Lowry (Laurel Leaf, $6.50 paper, 0440237688) “This book about a 12-year-old boy singled out by his community for a special role conveys a powerful message and should be read by all who are concerned about government going too far.”—Elizabeth Taylor, Poor Richard’s Books, Frankfort, KY

4. THE STORY OF LITTLE BLACK SAMBO, by Helen Bannerman, Christopher H. Bing (Illus.) (Handprint Books, $17.95, 1929766556) “This edition of Bannerman’s story features illustrations from Caldecott Honor-winning artist Bing and will be welcomed by all those who read it as a child or had it read to them. It spells out why the book fell into disfavor and how the illustrator viewed the story and how his work reflects it.”—Dorothy Dickerson, Books & More, Albion, MI

5. THE BLUEST EYE, by Toni Morrison (Plume, $14 paper, 0452282195) “This novel from the Nobel Laureate is an absolutely brutal depiction of a young black girl’s desire to be ‘pretty.’”—Donna Hawley, Howard’s Bookstore, Bloomington, IN

6. BRAVE NEW WORLD, by Aldous Huxley (Harper Perennial, $13.95 paper, 0060929871; Deluxe Paperback Classic edition, $13.95, 0060850523) “Huxley’s novel of a utopian World State explains the world and creates characters with whom you will empathize. Beautiful!”—Katie Redding, Top Shelf Books, Palatine, IL

7. FOREVER, by Judy Blume (Pocket, $6.99 paper, 0671695304; Atheneum Books for Young Readers, $17.95 hardcover, 0689849737) “Blume’s brilliance is that she writes frankly about teenage sexuality. But, beyond that, Forever is about teens taking responsibility for their lives and dealing with the consequences of their actions. Still controversial, this novel continues to speak to readers today.”—Sweet Pea Flaherty, King’s Books, Tacoma, WA

8. HARRY POTTER AND THE SORCERER’S STONE, by J.K. Rowling (Scholastic, $8.99 paper, 059035342X) “God bless J.K. Rowling, who has brought millions of children and adults around the world to books and reading. Her Harry Potter books have set children’s imaginations alight—and have created an extraordinary new batch of both readers and writers of fantasy fiction.”—Elisabeth Grant-Gibson, Windows A Bookshop, Monroe, LA

9. WE, by Yevgeny Zamyatin (Modern Library, $12.95 paper, 081297462X) “One of the very first dystopian novels ever written, and the only full-length novel ever completed by the Russian writer Zamyatin, who was constantly under arrest or exiled for his subversive writing. It’s the story of D-503, a mathematician who falls in love and then must decide between his new love and his beloved state.”—Michael Karpus, Books & Books at Bal Harbour Shops, Bal Harbour, FL

10. WHALE TALK, by Chris Crutcher (Laurel Leaf, $6.50 paper, 0440229383) “In a war between the jocks and the freaks, T.J. Jones gradually becomes a wise and fair ‘Everyman,’ representing all that is good in our society. This book should be required reading for every freak, geek, and jock living the American dream/ nightmare of high school.”—Collette Morgan, Wild Rumpus, Minneapolis, MN

The American Booksellers Foundation for Free Expression (ABFFE) is the bookseller’s voice in the fight against censorship. Founded by the American Booksellers Association, ABFFE is a leader in the fight to protect reader privacy, helping bookstores challenge subpoenas and search warrants for customer information, and supporting efforts to restore the protections for the privacy of bookstore and library records that were eliminated by the USA Patriot Act. ABFFE also coordinates bookstore programs on such important First Amendment issues as the importance of protecting reporters and writers from subpoenas seeking to expose their confidential sources.

Banned Books Week September 23 – September 30, 2006

For more information about joining ABFFE, visit www.abffe.com/about.htm.

Find more independent bookseller recommendations at www.BookSense.com

Book Sense is a nationwide network of 1,200+ independent bookstores working together to bring knowledge, passion, character, personality, and community to your book-buying experience. Find book suggestions, store locations, and more at www.booksense.com, or call 1-888-BOOKSENSE for a store near you.

s e n s e[®]
*Independent Bookstores
for Independent Minds*