Other Indie Favorites

Salvage the Bones: A Novel, by Jesmyn Ward (Bloomsbury USA, $24) "Ward writes with a power and depth of feeling that is both rare and exhilarating. Her novel about 12 days in the life of a poor black family living on the Mississippi coast as a hurricane gathers in the gulf displays the gifts of a writer with exceptional skill and no fear. The characters seem almost to claw their way off the pages, so vividly has Jesmyn Ward created them. This is a novel of flesh and blood, heart and soul, dreams and terrors that I will not soon forget!"—Stan Hynds, Northshire Bookstore, Manchester Center, VT

The Winters in Bloom: A Novel, by Lisa Tucker (Atria, $25) "Tucker's latest novel is ostensibly about overprotective parents Kyra and David Winter, whose son Michael has disappeared from the backyard, but it is also about time and memory and how the past makes us who we are. Tucker's talent for storytelling is evident as subplots are seamlessly woven into twists and turns that continually take the reader by surprise. This is one of those rare books that you can't stop thinking about and that makes you reevaluate everything you thought you knew about your own family and your own life. I loved it!"—Rob Dougherty, Clinton Book Shop, Clinton, NJ

Another Indie Favorite

You Deserve Nothing, by Alexander Maksik (Europa Editions, $15) "This is a brilliant first novel about a teacher at an international high school in Paris and his relationships with, and influence on, his students and colleagues. The story is told by several narrators whose distinct voices contribute to the depth of the conflict between idealism and reality, each vividly presented in these seductive pages. I couldn't put it down." —Lanetta Parks, The Compleat Bookseller, Chestertown, MD

- Another Indie Favorite for Teen Readers
Welcome to Bordertown, by Holly Black, Ellen Kushner (Eds.), (Random House Books for Young Readers, $19.99) "Imagine if someone lurked all our best-known urban fantasy writers to one place and wouldn't let them go until they had collectively crafted interconnected stories of a wild, magical city on the borders of the real world and the realm of magic. That's exactly what Black and Kushner did, and the result is a madcap, rushing fantasy adventure with lost maidens, cursed shapeshifters, impossibly beautiful and cruel princesses, and a heavy dose of rock'n'roll!" —Jocelyn Koehler, Boswell Book Company, Milwaukee, WI
