Other Indie Favorites

The Boy in the Suitcase, by Lene Kaaberbøl and Agnete Friis (Soho Crime, $24) "Not just another Scandinavian thriller, this book catches your attention from page one! Red Cross nurse Nina Borg gets caught up in a terrible series of events, when her erstwhile friend asks for help and leaves her a key to a public locker. The locker contains a suitcase that is unbearably awkward to carry, and when Nina opens it, she finds a naked, unconscious little boy. Who is this boy, and what does he have to be saved from? A great introduction to an award-winning team of Danish authors." —Margaret Brennan Neville, The King's English, Salt Lake City, UT

White Truffles in Winter: A Novel, by N.M. Kelby (W.W. Norton, $24.95) "This richly layered novel is based on the life of legendary chef Auguste Escoffier, who popularized French cooking methods at his restaurants at The Savoy and The Ritz at the beginning of the 20th century. Escoffier's love for two women: the beautiful, iconic actress Sarah Bernhardt and his lovely, poetess wife, Delphine Daffis, is at the heart of this complex tale. The characters are vivid and the food—oh, the food—is delicious!" —Erica Caldwell, Present Tense, Batavia, NY

Another Indie Favorite

The Best American Noir of the Century, James Ellroy and Otto Penzler (Eds.) (Mariner, $16.95)

"This is an amazingly delicious and dark collection. Every decade from the 1920s forward is represented by at least one classic selection, with many from the last 20 years included. These stories invariably end in a nastier manner than you'd first suspect. I hope a second volume is considered very soon!" —Carl Hoffman, Boswell Book Company, Milwaukee, WI

Another Indie Favorite for Ages 4-8

A House in the Woods, by Inga Moore (Candlewick, $16.99) "I love this book! The spectacular Inga Moore illustrations accompany a story that will appeal to kids and grownups alike. Two pigs, a moose, and a bear decide they want a house where they can live together. They plan it and hire a group of hard hat-wearing beavers as their contractors. We watch the house go up, and—in the best scene of all—the beavers being paid in peanut-butter sandwiches. Delightful!" —Deborah Johnson, Barstons Child's Play, Washington, DC
