Other Indie Favorites

The Professionals: A Novel, by Owen Laukkanen (Putnam Adult, $25.95) "This is a top-notch debut thriller with an unusual plot, terrific characters, and non-stop action. It has been a while since I started a book and couldn't stop until it was finished. The Professionals is one of those books. The bad guys don't seem too bad at first and the cops chasing them don't seem to be too capable. That all changes by the end of the book when both the criminals and those enforcing the law show that they are true professionals—willing to sacrifice everything." —Nancy McFarlane, Fiction Addiction, Greenville, SC

Forgotten Country: A Novel, by Catherine Chung (Riverhead, $26.95) "On the day of her sister's birth, Janie is told by her Korean grandmother that one girl child in each generation dies. This statement sets the stage for Janie's 'disappearance' and 'reemergence.' Laced with Korean folklore and culture, the story moves seamlessly from Korea to Middle America and reflects the travails of an immigrant family both culturally and emotionally. The writing in this debut is poetic, spare, and exquisite. It would be a great pick for a book group." —Biddy Kehoe, Hockessin Book Shelf, Hockessin, DE

Grace: A Novel, by T. Greenwood (Kensington, $15) "I dare you to read the first chapter of this book and then try to set it aside. It's impossible not to devour the mystery of why Kurt aims his rifle at the back of his only son's head. As their story unfolds you will understand and sympathize with each character. Grace is a thriller, a heartbreaking account of bullying, and a beautiful story about an imperfect family and the love that must save them all." —Cathy Allard, Bay Shore Books, Oconto, WI

Another Indie Favorite for Ages 4 to 8

I've Lost My Hippopotamus, by Jack Prelutsky, Jackie Urbanovic (illus.)

(Greenwillow, $18.99) "More than 100 poems grace the pages of Prelutsky's newest gem. It's part Dr. Seuss, part Doug Florian, and part Shel Silverstein, but all Jack Prelutsky: You'll be laughing, grossed out, charmed, and groaning at all of the silliness, puns, and unique stories presented in each poem. Children of all ages will read this collection over and over again. Urbanovic's illustrations are the perfect addition to this must-have volume." —Jeanette Sessions, Northshire Bookstore, Manchester Center, VT
