Other Indie Favorites

Angelmaker: A Novel, by Nick Harkaway (Knopf, $26.95) "Joe Spork actively resists becoming a gangster like his dad. He knows he's missing something in his life as a law-abiding clockmaker, but can't quite put his finger on it. Reluctantly, he agrees to do a job for a friend from the shadier spots of his past and unknowingly turns on a machine that just might end the world as we know it. What follows is an escalating escapade into a world of mad scientists, a religious cult, secret agents, a death czar, covert government bureaucrats, swarms of golden bees, and gangsters galore. Angelmaker is an imaginative romp." —Hannah Johnson-Breimeier, Next Chapter Bookshop, Mequon, WI

The Book of Madness and Cures: A Novel, by Regina O'Melveny (Little, Brown, $25.99) "Gabriella lived in Venice, where women in the 16th century had roles strictly limited by the church and custom. Gabriella was her father's protégé, however, and he taught her to follow in his footsteps as a physician, a role usually not allowed women. Then her father disappeared. After awaiting his return and forbidden to practice in his absence, Gabriella follows in her father's footsteps once again, this time on an epic adventure across Europe and into Africa to bring him home. An unforgettable debut!" —Deon Stonehouse, Sunriver Books, Sunriver, OR
