Other Indie Favorites

Faith Bass Darling's Last Garage Sale: A Novel, by Lynda Rutledge (Amy Einhorn Books/Putnam, $25.95) "Is Faith Bass Darling really selling her priceless Tiffany lamp for one dollar? Yes, and the rest of five generations of family heirlooms for whatever the customer can afford—not the thousands they are worth. Why is the richest lady in Bass, Texas, suddenly selling off her worldly possessions? Because God told her to. Rutledge's debut novel will tug at your heartstrings while posing important questions: Do our possessions possess us? Does the soul have a memory? Read Faith Bass Darling's Last Garage Sale for the answers!" —Karen Briggs, Great Northern Books and Hobbies, Oscoda, MI

All Woman and Springtime, by Brandon Jones (Algonquin, $24.95) "Mr. Choy had the perfect business plan, with almost no cash outlay for staff. His porn business used North Korean refugees who had nowhere to run. Three young women who were taught from birth that there is no free will and that their every action must benefit the Glorious Leader are easy prey. One is beautiful, one brassy, and one has internalized all of her pain and thinks with numerical precision. This is a compelling and unflinching tale of personal survival, politics, and, above all, friendship that will stay with you. Astounding!" —Becky Milner, Vintage Books, Vancouver, WA
