Other Indie Favorites

As the Crow Flies: A Walt Longmire Mystery, by Craig Johnson (Viking, $25.95) "Walt Longmire and Henry Standing Bear try to balance wedding planning for Walt's daughter with solving the murder of a woman whose body they find at a potential ceremony location. Add in a troublesome new tribal chief, and Walt is in over his head. Another wonderful addition to this amazing series! Johnson balances humor, action, and mystery like a master!" —Anne Kimbol, Murder By the Book, Houston, TX

To the Last Breath: A Memoir of Going to Extremes, by Francis Slakey (Simon & Schuster, $27) "This is a splendid and exciting read about the author's transition from self-centered narcissist to world citizen during his 10-year, physically and emotionally rigorous adventure to be the first person to climb the highest summits on every continent and surf all the oceans of the world. Highly recommended!" —Gary Colliver, Windows on the World—Books & Art, Mariposa, CA

Another Indie Favorite

Shelter: A Novel, by Frances Greenlade (Free Press, $15) "Maggie and Jenny are two sisters who sustain devastating losses at a very young age, but who are very different in many ways. Their father, Patrick, is killed in a logging accident and their mother leaves them with a friend and is 'gone, like a cat who goes out the back door one night and doesn't return.' The voice of 10-year-old Maggie is pitch-perfect as is the story she relates. How these two girls survive in the wilderness of northwest Canada amid uncaring, indifferent adults is a harrowing story wonderfully told. —Kathleen Dixon, Islandtime Books & More, Washington Island, WI

Silly Doggy!, by Adam Stower (Orchard Books, $16.99) "Lily has always wanted a dog. She wakes up one morning and finds a big furry brown 'doggy' outside her bedroom window. He isn't like other dogs. He doesn't do tricks well, and he likes to eat weird things, including balls. Lily's mother tells her that she needs to put up a poster because he probably belongs to somebody. And he does—the zool! Adorable!" —Debbie Buck, Vintage Books, Vancouver, WA
