Other Indie Favorites

Accelerated: A Novel, by Bronwen Hruska (Pegasus, $25) “What starts off as a send-up of overscheduled, gifted children and the Rambo parents and elite schools that create them quickly turns into a tale of a huge pharmaceutical conspiracy. When Sean reluctantly caves in to the pressure that New York City’s most prestigious school exerts on him to start medicating his son, Toby, for seemingly nonexistent issues, there are disastrous consequences. Sean must gather his allies close and his enemies closer if he wants to take on this bedrock of prestige and wealth, whose arms of power extend eerily into every aspect of his life.” —Emily Crowe, Odyssey Bookshop, South Hadley, MA

The News From Spain: Seven Variations on a Love Story, by Joan Wickersham (Knopf, $24.95) “The messengers delivering the news from Spain vary, but each serves to remind the reader how a short story can rank with the thickest novel as a vehicle for rich character development and breathtaking plot. The stories take us from an assisted living home to a boys’ prep school, from a New York apartment where a paralyzed dancer is confined to a first-person story by Mozart’s librettist set within a contemporary tale. Anyone who doubts that the short story form offers a satisfying literary experience should read this extraordinary collection.” —Cheryl McKeon, Rakestraw Books, Danville, CA
