Another Indie Favorite

Crossing on The Paris: A Novel, by Dana Gynther (Gallery, $15) "This story chronicles five days on a steamer ship, The Paris, crossing the Atlantic from Le Havre to New York in 1921. Three women from different stations in life each traveling alone meet, and their actions impact each other's lives during the journey. There is young Julie Vernet, who is leaving her grieving parents behind to take a job in the service sector of the ship; Constance Stone, a woman in her 30s returning from an unsuccessful trip to Paris to persuade her gypsy sister to come home; and Vera Sinclair, a rich, ailing sophisticate who is traveling back to her hometown after many years abroad. A fascinating look at the emerging independence of women, wonderfully told." —Lori Gascon, Sunriver Books, Sunriver, OR
