Brain on Fire: My Month of Madness, by Susannah Cahalan (Free Press, $25) "A young reporter's near-death experience started with what seemed to be a bedbug bite, followed by an out-of-character migraine. Cahalan forgot a pitch meeting. She snooped on her boyfriend's email. Beloved newspaper clippings were tossed. Garbage piled up in her apartment. And then the seizures began. This compelling story of one woman's descent into madness and the equally horrifying journey of her family to find suitable help works both as a great literary memoir as well as a well-reported medical mystery. You might say the result is Girl, Interrupted with a dash of The Hot Zone and a sprinkling of The Exorcist!" —Daniel Goldin, Boswell Book Company, Milwaukee, WI

Eight Girls Taking Pictures: A Novel, by Whitney Otto (Scribner, $24) "Otto is masterful in telling the stories of eight women photographers — their creative lives, their struggles balancing family and work, their politics (sexual and otherwise), and their place within the art community and the world events of the 20th century. All are skillfully presented and intricately woven together to create an unforgettable novel. Yes, it is fiction, but Otto has drawn from the real lives of gifted, renowned photographers, and the stories behind the images, whether real or imagined, are compelling, inspiring, and very entertaining. What a feast of a novel!" —Cathy Langer, Tattered Cover Book Store, Denver, CO
