Other Indie Favorites

Bitter River: A Novel, by Julia Keller (Minotaur, $25.99) "Fans of character-driven suspense with strong female protagonists will love Bitter River, the latest in Keller's Bell Elkins series, following A Killing in the Hills. Prosecutor and divorced mom Elkins is questioning her move back from Washington, D.C., to her impoverished West Virginia hometown as she investigates the murder of a teenage girl who seemed to be one of the town's success stories. Meanwhile, forces from outside the town bring an unforeseen threat to Bell's new relationship and, ultimately, to Bell herself. Suspenseful and satisfying!" —Carol Schneck Varner, Schuler Books & Music, Okemos, MI

The Affairs of Others: A Novel, by Amy Grace Loyd (Picador, $24) "With elements of both Alfred Hitchcock and Ian McEwan, this gorgeously written novel seduces the reader into a fascinating world with its own vortex. Celia, the young widow who keeps careful tabs on her Brooklyn apartment building, is drawn deeply into her tenants' lives after the sensuous Hope takes a subplot. Peopled with intriguing characters—the elderly ferry boat captain who doesn't mind climbing four flights to his room with a water view, the disappearing cleaning woman—and infused with the sights and sounds of the perpetually mysterious New York City, this book unfolds with stunning momentum and reverberates long after the reader has turned the final page." —Jaime Clarke, Newtonville Books, Newton Centre, MA
