Two Prospectors: The Letters of Sam Shepard and Johnny Dark, edited by Chad Hammett (University of Texas Press, $35) "With photos, facsimiles, and full texts, this volume of correspondence between playwright and actor Shepard and his former father-in-law and close friend, Dark, is as multifaceted as the voices and lives of its principals. Since Shepard has said he won't write a memoir, this spirited 40-plus year correspondence may well be the closest we will get to the playwright's perspective on his own life and work. Like many of Shepard's plays, the complex relationship between two men is at the heart of this collection." —Laurie Greer, Politics and Prose Bookstore and Coffee House, Washington, DC

The Cartographer of No Man's Land: A Novel, by P.S. Duffy (Liveright, $25.95) "The Great War has inspired great literature and this novel takes its place in the ranks of unforgettable World War I novels. A pacifist, Angus finds himself at the front while searching for his brother-in-law and discovers that he must not only confront the horrors of combat but also every value he holds. At home, a Canadian fishing village is also being devastated by the results of the war. Duffy deftly portrays the total destruction wrought by combat. A powerful and poignant debut." —Bill Cusumano, Nicola's Books, Ann Arbor, MI

Monument Road: A Novel, by Charlie Quimby (Torrey House Press [Dist. Consortium], $16.95) "A taciturn, ornery man grieving the loss of his wife plans to release her ashes off a spectacular cliff, which she loved, and fling himself off after her. Various interruptions ensue, however, and while driving he revisits decisions, beliefs, and relationships, all with some regrets and some surprises. This novel is remarkable for the layers of meaning inherent in the stories that evolve. Fear, risk, religion, connection, and the landscape all resonate in ways both beautiful and dangerous. The debut of an author with a deft touch and the ability to create a story that is rich and lasting." —Sheryl Cotleur, Copperfield's Books, Sebastopol, CA

Another Indie Favorite for Teen Readers
The Burning Sky, by Sherry Thomas (Balzer + Bray, $17.99) "With an impressive mix of magic, adventure, joviality, and romance, Thomas throws her characters—and the reader—immediately into danger with the 'simple' act of fixing a spell gone wrong. Magic flies loose and fast through the pages as Iolantide Seabourne and Prince Titus fight both with each other and toward their goal of destroying the Bane, the ruler of Atlantis and a despicable villain. In the meantime, there's cricket to learn, disguises to maintain, and dragons to slay. This first book in the Elemental Trilogy is chock full of marvelous storytelling and clever twists." —Annie Carl, Third Place Books, Lake Forest Park, WA
