Other Indie Favorites

Flying Shoes: A Novel, by Lisa Howorth (Bloomsbury, $26) "Howorth's debut novel is a Southern feast for the mind. As the mystery of the brutal death of a nine-year-old boy unfolds, the reader meets unforgettable characters, most notably Mary Byrd Thornton, a feisty, flawed, and often foul-mouthed wife and mother and the stepmother of the murdered child, who very reluctantly revisits the event after 30 years. Flying Shoes artfully steers the reader through some of the idiosyncrasies of life in a Southern town and deals with social and racial issues with the honesty and humor that only an insider can offer." —Cathy Langer, Tattered Cover Book Store, Denver, CO

That Night: A Novel, by Chevy Stevens (St. Martin's Press, $25.99) "What happens if you are a teenager accused of a murder you didn't commit, the town considers you no good, and your parents agree with them? For Toni Murphy, the nightmare is only beginning. She is now out on parole and with the help of her boyfriend is looking for her sister's killers. This book is a rollercoaster of suspense and when the truth is finally revealed, it is a relief. But then there is yet one more unexpected twist. What a ride!" —Janice Hunsche, Kaleidosaurus Books, Metamora, IN
