Other Indie Favorites

The Upstairs Wife: An Intimate History of Pakistan, by Rafia Zakaria (Beacon Press, $26.95)

"This is a masterfully executed, gripping, and intimate account of both the situation of Pakistani women and the troubling politics of the Pakistani state. Zakaria chronicles the humiliation of her aunt, a barren wife, as she is relegated to second-class status and moved upstairs to make room for her uncle's second wife. Into this remembrance, the author skillfully weaves the story of Benazir Bhutto, the charismatic and powerful Pakistani leader plagued by the dark history and politics of her country that eventually led to her assassination. A dark tale, The Upstairs Wife offers the reader much insight into the history and culture of Pakistan." —Cathy Langer, Tattered Cover Book Store, Denver, CO

The Country of Ice Cream Star: A Novel, by Sandra Newman (Ecco, $26.99) "Newman drops the reader into a small tribe of scavengers, hunting and thieving out a meager survival in the woods of Massachusetts approximately 80 years after an unnamed plague has wiped out most of the U.S. population. The world Newman creates is original, richly detailed, and compellingly realized, including the patois in which the story is told. At turns violent, romantic, funny, and touching, The Country of Ice Cream Star wraps an exploration of power, American institutions, race, and human nature into a ripping, twisting, and turning post-apocalyptic tale that is epic in scope and achievement." —Matt Nixon, The Booksellers at Laurelwood, Memphis, TN
