I Am Radar: A Novel, by Reif Larsen (Penguin Press, $29.95) "I Am Radar revolves around questions of art, creation, love, heartbreak, performance, war, and regeneration. Sounds like heady stuff, and it is, but on an immensely readable level that culminates in a puzzling yet delightful climax. As Radar navigates his way through life as a black child, a white man, and a white/black man, he discovers that art can be perception and science can be art. The language used is delightfully beautiful, even in the war scenes. I Am Radar may also be the best book about personal definitions of art in our time, as well as how art can affect and change a person. I cannot recommend it highly enough!" —Bill Carl, The Booksellers on Fountain Square, Cincinnati, OH

Aquarium, by David Vann (Atlantic Monthly Press, $24) "The world of the aquarium becomes a microcosm of a young girl's longings—some she can name, some she cannot—as her splintered family makes jagged efforts to reform itself. How kinship is expressed, both in the fish world and within 12-year-old Caitlin's difficult family, is at the heart of Vann's piercing and ultimately redemptive novel—one that remains vivid long after the last page." —Sheryl Cotleur, Copperfield's Books, Sebastopol, CA
