The Witch of Painted Sorrows: A Novel, by M.J. Rose (Atria Books, $25) "Set in Belle Époque Paris, The Witch of Painted Sorrows features an American socialite fleeing from her husband in New York to the home of her courtesan grandmother in Paris. There, she uncovers family secrets, discovers both her talent as an artist and her erotic nature, and confronts the witch La Lune, an ancestor who threatens to possess her. Rose proves herself once again to be a consummate storyteller in this provocative and entertaining novel." —Fran Keilty, The Hickory Stick Bookshop, Washington Depot, CT

A Reunion of Ghosts: A Novel, by Judith Claire Mitchell (Harper, $26.99) "The sins of the fathers are visited upon the children to the third and fourth generations. These are the words that the Alter sisters live by and the reason they have chosen to die at their own hands. Lady, Vee, and Delph Alter have written a suicide note that turns out to be a family history. The sisters are descendants of Lenz, a chemist and the creator of the poison gas that was first used in WWI, and his wife, Iris, the first woman to earn a Ph.D. in chemistry and the first in the family to commit suicide. A Reunion of Ghosts is a captivating chronicle of a family and the weight of consequences that grow heavier with time." —Jen Steele, Boswell Book Company, Milwaukee, WI
