Another Indie Favorite for Ages 9 to 12

The Map to Everywhere, by Carrie Ryan and John Parke Davis (Little, Brown Books for Young Readers, $17)

"When Marrill climbs aboard a ship in the middle of a desert parking lot, she's thinking only of helping her mother, not saving the world. Soon she has sailed into an unknown world where her only chance at returning home is the magical Map to Everywhere. Marrill and a decidedly forgettable master thief named Fin, a curiously tattooed Pirate Stream captain, and a determined wizard, must traverse remarkable and sometimes dangerous lands to locate the map that will save—or possibly destroy—those that seek it." —Sara Grochowski, Brilliant Books, Traverse City, MI

Another Indie Favorite for Teen Readers

Solitaire, by Alice Oseman (HarperTeen, $17.99)

"Tori Spring is a typical money teen. She feels most at home on the Internet and regards her peers with equal parts disdain and distrust. She worries about her brother, who has a serious eating disorder, and feels increasingly distant from her best friend, whose life seems more and more to revolve around boys and parties. A friend from the past, a mysterious stranger, and an anonymous pranking organization called Solitaire will push Tori toward more actively engaging with her life." —Sarah Sawyers-Lovett, Big Blue Marble Bookstore, Philadelphia, PA
