Another Indie Favorite

Close Your Eyes, Hold Hands: A Novel, by Chris Bohjalian (Vintage, $15.95) "A very contemporary and controversial subject helps make this novel scarily real. The narrator is Emily, the 14-year-old daughter of parents who both work at a nuclear power plant in the Northeast Kingdom of Vermont. The plant melts down, both parents are killed, and there are questions about their responsibility for the disaster. Experiencing guilt by association, Emily goes on the run and ends up homeless in Burlington. She befriends a nine-year-old boy who is also on the run along with other loners looking to survive. Fast-paced, gritty, and believable, this is a perfect novel for book club discussions." —Liza Bernard, Norwich Bookstore, Norwich, VT
