Other Indie Favorites

The Star Side of Bird Hill: A Novel, by Naomi Jackson (Penguin Press, $25.95) "In the summer of 1989, sisters Dionne and Phaedra — aged 16 and 10, respectively — are shuttled from their Brooklyn life to their grandmother Hyacinth's home in Barbados. Dionne is filled with palpable teenage angst, while Phaedra prefers to experience the mysteries of Bird Hill with her grandmother. Both girls have a tentative curiosity about their mother's early life on the island, but it is not until their father shows up unexpectedly that they question their very identities and what it means to be 'home.' Barbados springs from the page with humor, beauty, and heartbreak." —Lynn Riggs, Books & Company, Oconomowoc, WI

Bell Weather: A Novel, by Dennis Mahoney (Henry Holt, $28) "Set in a fantastical 18th century world where rain falls up and color storms wash the land with bright hues, Bell Weather is, at its core, the story of a spirited young woman fighting for the freedom to choose her own path. Although Molly tells the townsfolk of Root almost nothing of her past, readers learn about her childhood with an overbearing governess, a cold father, and a brilliant, cunning brother who will stop at nothing to ensure that he and Molly are together and unbridled. Mahoney has created a marvelous world that readers will want to visit again and again." —Amelia Stymack, Northshire Bookstore, Manchester Center, VT
