Other Indie Favorites

Speed Kings: The 1932 Winter Olympics and the Fastest Men in the World, by Andy Bull (Avery, $26.95) "What a ride! And what unforgettable characters—a Rhodes scholar who boxed and won gold medals in both the Summer and Winter Olympics; a high-society playboy; a Hollywood has-been; and the star of them all, who was born with a silver spoon and turned it into gold medals racing anything that went fast. Bull covers the lives of his speed kings from London, Hollywood, St. Moritz, and the Pacific with great depth and breadth, including the development of bobsled racing with all of its real dangers. An excellent read for anyone who loves sports, is interested in history, or simply appreciates well-crafted books." —Ann Carlson, Waterfront Books, Georgetown, SC

And West Is West: A Novel, by Ron Childress (Algonquin Books, $26.95) "Ethan is a young Wall Street quant who writes an algorithm that allows his company to profit from the financial upheaval caused by antiterrorist strikes. Jessica is a young Air Force drone pilot who is discharged because she has discussed a questionable UAV strike in a letter to her father. This book is a powerful wake-up call to understand how fear, greed, and war inform our technological advances. Childress has truly earned his PEN/Bellweather Prize for Socially Engaged Fiction." —Karen Tallant, Booksellers at Laurelwood, Memphis, TN
