The Night Parade, by Kathryn Tanquary (Sourcebooks Jabberwocky, $16.99) "A death curse looms over Saki's grandmother's house because Saki used the wrong branch in a fire to honor the dead. She now has only three nights to undo the curse or say goodbye to the world of the living forever. The Night Parade is full of adventures and unusual creatures that will grab the attention of middle-grade readers and also introduce them to Japanese culture. Not to be missed!" —Karen Briggs, Great Northern Books & Hobbies, Oscoda, MI

For Teen Readers

Soundless, by Richelle Mead (Razorbill, $19.99) "This fantasy informed by Chinese folklore is full of new ideas and breathtaking moments. Fei lives in a world where no one can hear and people are starting to go blind. High atop a mountain with no way down and no link to the outside world except a zipline that delivers scant rations in exchange for the metals that they mine, Fei and her people are trapped by injustices. That is until, suddenly, Fei can hear. She is ready to climb down the mountain to ask for some changes, but what she finds there is not at all what she expected!" —Alison Nolen, Linden Tree Children's Books, Los Altos, CA
