For Ages 9 to 12

Saving Wonder, by Mary Knight (Scholastic Press, $16.99) "Curley Hines loves living in Wonder Gap, his Appalachian Mountain town, despite his parents being dead and his grandfather wanting nothing more than to get him out of the holler. When their precious mountain is threatened with destruction and the rest of his world starts to fall apart, Curley knows he has to fight for his home. I loved every minute of this story. Curley is a determined protagonist who will absolutely inspire his readers to stand up for what they believe in." —Amanda Snow, Hooray for Books!, Alexandria, VA

For Teen Readers

The Great American Whatever, by Tim Federle (Simon & Schuster Books for Young Readers, $17.99) "Sixteen-year-old Quinn has been nudged out of hiding after his sister's tragic death by his best friend, Geoff. A lover of film, Quinn spends a week writing the screenplay of his life in his head while he confronts coming out, learning a secret, and grieving his loss. Federle captures the Young Adult voice in a funny, real, and vulnerable way. Readers will wish Quinn Roberts was their brother, best friend, or boyfriend!" —Diane Capriola, Little Shop of Stories, Decatur, GA
