The Versions of Us: A Novel, by Laura Bennett

(Houghton Mifflin Harcourt, $26) "A lovely debut that swept me along with the story of two people destined to be together. One chance meeting in college then takes three different roads and readers see the next decades played out through the couple's eyes. Each story is different, yet with the same players, and each does not turn out as expected. This is a thoughtful and touching novel about love, expectations, and forgiveness." —Kelly Estes, Carmichael's Bookstore, Louisville, KY

Father's Day: A Novel, by Simon Van Booy

(Harper, $24.99) "Van Booy's delicate touch is turned to the relationship between orphaned Harvey and her uncle, Jason, a man no one could expect to be the right choice as guardian. Van Booy uses the plot structure of a series of Father's Day gifts given to Jason from the now adult Harvey to reveal more than either of them realized about the life they have shared as adoptive father and daughter, as well as the heartbreaking truth of how they came to be a part of each other's lives. Father's Day is Van Booy at his most poignant, showing how redemption can arise from heartbreaking circumstances." —Don Luckham, The Toadstool Bookshop, Keene, NH
