Other Indie Favorites

The Hour of Land: A Personal Topography of America's National Parks, by Terry Tempest Williams (Sarah Crichton Books, $27) "Terry Tempest Williams' latest book, published for the 100th anniversary of the National Park Service, is personal, political, and profound. Her examination of 12 national parks is much more than a guide to the history and landscape of those places. It is a guide to the heart and soul of the entire National Park system, whose depth is exceeded only by its beauty." —Chuck Robinson, Village Books, Bellingham, WA

Goodnight, Beautiful Women, by Anna Noyes (Grove Press, $24) "These interconnected stories set in Maine and around the Northeast coast announce a startling new writer of strong literary fiction. Noyes' women yearn, stumble, get back up, make terrible mistakes, strive, keep dark secrets, take off, come back again, and fumble toward love. An extraordinarily raw voice that will remind readers of Rebecca Lee and Elizabeth Strout." —Melanie Fleischman, Arcadia Books, Spring Green, WI
