For Ages 9 to 12

Ryan Quinn and the Rebel's Escape, by Ron McGee, Chris Samnee (Illus.) (HarperCollins, $16.99) "Eighth-grader Ryan Quinn has no idea that his parents are part of a super secret Underground Railroad-type organization that operates in many of the world's most dangerous places. Now he must try to save both of them with the help of some of his school friends. I love the way that debut author McGee gets inside the head of his protagonist and that of his techno-geek friend, Danny. These characters ring true, the action is non-stop, and fans of adventure, spy thrillers, and just plain fun storytelling will be eagerly awaiting the next installment." —Maureen Palacios, Once Upon a Time, Montrose, CA

For Teen Readers

Loving vs. Virginia, by Patricia Hruby Powell, Shadra Strickland (Illus.) (Chronicle Books, $21.99) "Powell has written an incredibly moving account of the landmark Civil Rights case of Mildred and Richard Loving versus the State of Virginia. All this interracial couple wanted to do was marry, but to do so in the 1950s was illegal not only in Virginia, but also in 19 other states. Powell's documentary novel adeptly captures the voices and perspectives of all the major players, both inside and outside the courtroom. As a lawyer-turned-bookseller, I am deeply impressed by Powell's ability to clarify a complex issue while simultaneously telling a richly layered story." —Ellen Klein, Hooray for Books!, Alexandria, VA
