Walking With Miss Millie, by Tamara Bundy

(Nancy Paulsen Books, $16.99) "Staying with her grandma in Rainbow, Georgia, was not Alice's idea, and she is sure life is about to get a lot worse now that she's been coerced into walking cranky, old Miss Millie's mean dog. When the dog refuses to budge without his owner, Alice ends up on daily walks with Miss Millie and having conversations that change her life. Miss Millie can be crusty, but Alice learns that years of segregation have filled her heart with pain, compassion, bravery, and kindness. I loved the witty banter between these two as they gradually open up to each other." —Ellen Davis, Dragonwings Bookstore, Waupaca, WI

For Teen Readers

Ramona Blue, by Julie Murphy (Balzer + Bray, $17.99)

"I loved everything about this book! Ramona is spectacular in her extraordinary ordinariness (and I mean that in the very best way). She is every girl, sure of herself until she isn't and struggling to find her way while remaining true to herself. Her supporting characters are the kids we encounter every day. They are gay, straight, black, white, struggling, privileged, confident, and questioning, but they are not 'issues.' This is the perfect addition to the We Need Diverse Books canon and exactly what bookstore shelves should be filled with!" —Laura Donohoe, Spellbound Children's Bookshop, Asheville, NC
