Other Indie Favorites

The World of Tomorrow: A Novel, by Brendan Mathews (Little, Brown and Company, $28)
“The World of Tomorrow is so wise and so ambitious in scope that you will be hard-pressed to set it aside at a reasonable hour. Mathews’ success in depicting New York City just before WWII, the complexities of the Irish-American experience, and the first rumblings of the Holocaust, along with details of class, race, family, tragedy, comedy, heroics, and jazz, make this a truly immersive reading experience. With beautiful prose, a plot that manages strand after strand of narrative without ever becoming knotted or coming undone, and a cast of characters as alive as any on the page, this novel is a masterpiece.” —Robert McDonald, The Book Stall at Chestnut Court, Winnetka, IL

Fever: A Novel, by Deon Meyer, K.L. Seegers (Trans.) (Atlantic Monthly Press, $26)
“Fever, which grabbed me from the beginning, takes place in South Africa several years after a devastating illness wipes out most of the planet. It starts as a thrilling survival tale between a brilliant father and his 13-year-old son and quickly evolves into a fascinating study of human nature and the perils of building a new civilization from scratch. The survivalist details throughout the novel are especially fascinating, as are the conflicts within the society as it grows. A dense, captivating read that drew me in and kept me hooked!” —Elissa Englund, Bank Square Books, Mystic, CT

Another Indie Favorite

Close Enough to Touch: A Novel, by Colleen Oakley (Gallery Books, $16) "It was just a kiss, but it nearly killed her. Jubilee is allergic to people. She can't be touched by strangers, well-meaning or not. She retreats into her shell, away from the world, but her high school years pass, then her parents are gone, and, finally, she must move out into the world or die. She finds a home for her quiet life in a library, until Eric finds her and insists that she discover the truth of a life lived without fear. Close Enough is filled with real life, real people, and the search for happiness that we all recognize. It is a truly moving story from a rare gem of an author." —Linda Bond, Auntie's Bookstore, Spokane, WA

For Ages 9 to 12

Greetings with Witness Protection! by Jake Burt (Feiwel & Friends, $16.99) "After years of being bounced around the foster care system, Nicki Demere is offered a chance to live with a family that is looking for a second child. The catch is that this family is in the Witness Security Program, and the theory is that an additional family member will add another layer of disguise and make it more difficult for the mob to hunt them down so Nicki gets a new name, a bland profile, and a little brother with issues. Jake Burt's middle-grade novel is filled with humor and suspense, and Nicki/Charlotte is a terrific character." —Dave Shallenberger, Little Shop of Stories, Decatur, GA

For Teen Readers

Wild Bird by Wendelin Van Draanen (Knopf Books for Young Readers, $17.99) "Wild Bird is about a girl adrift in the choices she's made—in drugs, alcohol, and the friends she's chosen—and a family that doesn't know how to bring her back to them whole, if not undamaged. Wren Clemmens struggles to discover who she is and who her true friends are when her parents send her to an eight-week-long wilderness camp, the last chance they have to rescue her from herself. Filled with great wilderness tips, this was a one-sit read and I recommend it highly. It is never too late to be a warrior!" —René Kirkpatrick, University Book Store, Seattle, WA
