For Ages 9 to 12

Escape From Aleppo, by N.H. Senzai (Simon & Schuster/Paula Wiseman Books, $16.99) "Escape From Aleppo is an exceptional and heart-wrenching story with beautiful prose, vivid imagery, and one incredibly resilient young girl. Although the book doesn't shy away from Nadia's post-traumatic stress and the hardships she encounters, Senzai manages to balance this with Nadia's belief in stories, the goodness of others, and the positive power of religion, keeping the story realistic but not too heavy for middle-grade readers." —Sami Thomason, Square Books, Oxford, MS

For Teen Readers

You'll Miss Me When I'm Gone, by Rachel Lynn Solomon (Simon Pulse, $17.99) "Twins Tovah and Adina are completely different in almost every way. Their one commonality? The genes they share with their dying mother. Each twin has a 50/50 chance that their bright future may be cut short with the same genetic disorder; and, now 18, they can finally find out their fate. After the genetic test results are in, they have to reexamine what it means to live and to be ready to die. This is an honest and heartwarming story about luck, love, and trusting your fate." —Kim Bissell, Broadway Books, Portland, OR
