For Ages 9 to 12

Like Vanessa, by Tami Charles (Charlesbridge, $16.99) "All I can say is thank goodness the '80s are back in fashion, because this gem of a book is best read sitting in front of a TV tray in a recliner. Inspired by Vanessa Williams' 1983 Miss America win, a headstrong and pushy teacher, and a supportive and scheming grandfather, Vanessa Martin braves the small-town pageant circuit, the potential disappointment of her father, and the challenge of being dark skinned. Vanessa touches the dreamer spirit in all of us, and I cheered her on right through to the end." —Kim Bissell, Broadway Books, Portland, OR

For Teen Readers

Blood Water Paint, by Joy McCullough (Dutton Books for Young Readers, $17.99) "Artemisia Gentileschi was one of the greatest painters of her generation, but she lived in 17th-century Italy, where women had no power and little recourse when wronged. When one of her father's friends assaults her, Artemisia must decide whether to keep the secret or force him to face justice, no matter the cost. This book is heartbreaking, brilliant, and tragically relevant today. Read this book even if you don't care about art history. Read this book even if you don't usually like verse novels or historical fiction. Just read this book. It will haunt you." —Lillian Tschudi-Campbell, Red Balloon Bookshop, St. Paul, MN
