The Ghost in Apartment 2R, by Denis Markell (Delacorte Books for Young Readers, $16.99)

“The Ghost in Apartment 2R confidently straddles the line between spooky and funny, spine-chilling and heart-warming. Just as Danny’s life is inextricably tied to the history of his diverse Brooklyn neighborhood—which is slowly being transformed by encroaching gentrification—the ghost’s terror and trauma are tied to this earthly place. Markell writes about Brooklyn, its history, and its people with the warmth and affection only a native could achieve, while also crafting a stellar ghost story that kept me hooked. I can’t wait to start showing this book in readers’ hands.” —Abby Rauscher, Books Are Magic, Brooklyn, NY

For Teen Readers

The How & the Why, by Cynthia Hand (HarperTeen, $17.99)

“Cass McMurtry has always known she was adopted, but upon turning 18, she wants to know who she is—not just who her adopted parents raised her to be, but her roots deep down. On a journey surrounded by her fun-loving and caring support system, Cass learns about her family’s past through letters written by her biological mother. A heart-wrenching novel, The How & the Why will leave you wanting more of Cynthia Hand’s talented writing.” —Kelsi Roberts, Story on The Square, McDonough, GA
