For Ages 9 to 12

Chirp, by Kate Messner (Bloomsbury Children’s Books, $16.99) “Ma is not too happy about moving to Vermont after seventh grade, especially with a broken arm, but she makes friends, finds her spirit, and helps to solve mysteries regarding her grandmother’s cricket farm. Ma has her own secrets, too, and it isn’t until she finds courage in other people’s stories that she can confront her fears. Messner is unparalleled in understanding young people’s minds, and her skillful and sensitive handling of difficult topics and situations makes this story one both young people and adults will be glad they read.” —Gail Meyer, The Bookstore Plus Music & Art, Lake Placid, NY

For Teen Readers

Be Not Far From Me, by Mindy McGinnis (Katherine Tegen Books, $18.99) “While on a camping trip,Ashley upon starting her boyfriend having sex with his ex, rushes away into the woods. Luckily for her, she has experience in the woods and training in survival. Unluckily, she has run off without her pack or even her shoes. The rest of the book is the narrative of her survival. The terse and tense prose lends itself well to the story. An amazing addition to YA survival novels.” —Rosie Lee-Parks, Readers’ Books, Sonoma, CA
