“Patricia Engel’s new book is a true gem, a family story in which each voice is equally interesting and dynamic as well as a great examination on the brutish nature of the U.S. government and citizens toward people traveling stateside to start a new life. Your heart breaks and mends and breaks all over again for this family. In less than 200 pages, Engel works magic.” —James Harrod, Malaprop’s Bookstore/Café, Asheville, NC

For Ages 9 to 12
Across the Pond, by Joy McCullogh (Atheneum Books for Young Readers, $17.99) “This a wonderful story that makes you feel like the world is brimming with possibilities even when everything seems to be going wrong. A lovely coming-of-age story about family, friendship, and birding with a little history thrown in, Across the Pond will make you smile so wide your face will hurt and it will warm your heart so much you’ll never want to stop grinning.” —Marielle Orff, Towne Book Center and Wine Bar, Collegeville, PA

For Teen Readers
Namesake, by Adrienne Young (Wednesday Books, $18.99) “Namesake is a beautiful conclusion to the story begun in Fable. In Namesake, you get to see all the characters grow in such a perfect way. The descriptions are beautiful, and I loved diving below the sea with Fable again. In this book, we follow Fable as she tries to find her way back to the Marigold through new alliances as well as old and new enemies, but we don’t know who will come through to help her. I didn’t want this book to end.” —Blair Bayless, Copperfield’s Books, Calistoga, CA

The Little Library, by Margaret McNamara, G. Brian Karas (Illus.) (Schwartz & Wade, $17.99)

“I love this book with the fire of a thousand suns—I, too, was a slow reader when I was a kid, and it’s really nice to see this represented in a picture book in a positive way! Blending reading with woodworking is also a brilliant combination.” —Kelsy April, Bank Square Books, Mystic, CT
