the mysteries of his past and to meet the challenges of his future.

“Imagine a world invaded and devasted by a monster that, if gazed upon, makes the viewer insane and prone to madness. Insert into this world a young mother living in a shrouded house with two young children whom she has trained from birth to listen, but never to look. Now, she is going to take them blindfolded on a trip 20 miles downriver in a canoe in hopes of a better life. This is the world of Bird Box that will keep you up reading well past your bedtime. Creepy, wonderful, and unput-downable.”

The Good Luck of Right Now
A Novel, by Matthew Quick

(St. Martin’s Griffin, 9781250039828, $15.99)

“Can the hero of a coming-of-age story be 39 years old? Is Jung’s theory of synchronicity a valid supposition? And what would Richard Gere do? These and other intriguing questions are addressed in this poignant novel. After the death of his mother, Bartholomew Neil faces the future alone, pitifully unprepared for the realities of life. He embarks upon a one-sided correspondence with Gere, and although there is never a response, it somehow provides the wisdom and support Bartholomew needs to confront the mysteries of his past and to meet the challenges of his future.”
—Lynn Beeson, Logosian Books, Shaker Heights, OH

Roosevelt's Beast
A Novel, by Louis Bayard

(St. Martin’s Griffin, 9781250053514, $16.99)

“It is 1914 and Teddy Roosevelt and his son, Kermit, along with other members of a scientific expedition, are traveling deep into the jungle to map Brazil’s Rio da Duvida, the River of Doubt. Kermit and Teddy are kidnapped by a mysterious Amazonian tribe, and the head tribesman explains to the necessities of killing ‘The Beast With No Tracks,’ which has been killing jaguars as well as humans, but has never been seen. Another wonderful reinvention of the past by acclaimed author Bayard, whose literary style includes wit, suspense, and psychological horror with a twist.”
—Karen Briggs, Great Northern Books & Hobbies, Oscoda, MI

Redeployment
by Phil Klay

(Penguin Books, 9780143126829, $16.00)

“In a whirlwind of short stories, Klay gives us a good, strong impression of how it must feel to be an American soldier in the 21st century. The whole gamut of emotions including guilt, worry, post-traumatic stress disorder, and the difficulties associated with homecoming, are presented as real life events. Sometimes chilling to the bone, sometimes heartbreaking, every story has its own value and will touch your heart.”
—Jean-Paul Adrianiens, Water Street Books, Exeter, NH

The Orenda
A Novel, by Joseph Boyden

(Vintage, 9780345806451, $15.95)

“Boyden’s novel closely follows a strange trinity of the Wendat warrior scarred by the loss of his family, an ungrudging but earnest Jesuit missionary, and the troubled, gifted, trogoues girl who equally unites and stands apart from them—he writes of timeless cycles of loss and regeneration and loss again. This is a staggeringly beautiful work.”
—Sam Kaas, Village Books, Bellingham, WA

The Days of Anna Madrigal
A Novel, by Armistead Maupin

(Harper Perennial, 9780062196279, $15.99)

“Maupin’s Tales of the City series has enchanted many over the years. At the center of its fictional universe ‘family’—the family you get to choose—is Anna Madrigal, now 92, a bit unsteady on her pins and frail but still the anchor of this quirky, lively group of people. As time goes on, Anna feels the need to revisit her past and secrets too long hidden. As luck would have it, familiar characters Michael, Ben, Shawna, Jake, and Amos are also heading into the dry flats of Nevada for the Burning Man festival.”
—Deon Stonehouse, Sunriver Books & Music, Sunriver, OR

In Paradise
A Novel, by Peter Matthiessen

(Riverhead Trade, 9781594633522, $16)

“A large group of very different people, each with their own reason, goes on retreat at Auschwitz. At first it seems the visit for several days could not be more stark, yet Matthiessen masterfully layers in a chiaroscuro of experiences where feelings and responses surprise even the most resolute. The reader’s experience of this novel seems closer to being washed over by music or wind than by what we think of as reading. Some wholly other form of communication is at hand in this fine, fine novel.”
—Bill Carl, The Booksellers of Fountain Square, Cincinnati, OH

The Wives of Los Alamos
A Novel, by TaraShea Nesbit

(Bloomsbury, 9781620405048, $16)

“In 1943, families of mathematicians and scientists, escorted under high security, move to the Hill—Los Alamos National Laboratory. With their own reason, goes on retreat at Auschwitz. At first it seems the visit for several days could not be more stark, yet Matthiessen masterfully layers in a chiaroscuro of experiences where feelings and responses surprise even the most resolute. The reader’s experience of this novel seems closer to being washed over by music or wind than by what we think of as reading. Some wholly other form of communication is at hand in this fine, fine novel.”

Ruby
A Novel, by Cynthia Bond

(Hogarth, 9780804139133, $15)

“As a boy in the small East Texas town of Liberty, Ephram Jennings lost his heart to a beautiful girl named Ruby. As a middle-aged man, Ephram decides to risk the disapproval of nearly everyone in town and show his love, Though by now Ruby has been nearly destroyed by the demons of her past, both real and imagined. Bond evokes Toni Morrison in her beautifully written and unflinching description of the realities of life in a small Texas town in the middle of the 20th century.”
