Graphic Works

Ballad for Sophie
By Filip Melch, Joan Cincio (Iksn.), Gabriela Soares (Tran.)
(Toon Books, 9781613778982, Paperback, $12.95, Dec. 2)
"In Ballad for Sophie, an intimate family tells a life story, full of drama and death, regret and hope. This stunning collaboration between Filip Melch and Joan Cincio will own your off your feet and surprise you with its unexpected ending."
—Christy Paekosz, Winston Books, Vancouver, BC

Celestia
By Wannasee Fie, Jorrie Richards (Tran.)
(Philadelphia, 9781596528484, Hardcover, $32.95, July 15)
"Sure that I knew exactly what was going on and always on the case of being completely lost. I was captivated by the beautiful art and skilled pacing. Where most speculative fiction resembles pulp, Finn provides elegant understatement."
—Aud McManus, Treadwell Books, Portland, OR

Lore Olympus: Volume One
By Rachel Smythe
(Skybound Books, 9781683965540, Hardcover, $29.99, Dec 11)
"In a world made of one locked room, the protagonist tries to find an escape through a bookshelf of graphic novels. As each book taunts the main character with their past, they also show the rich history of graphic novels and literature."
—Julia DeVarti, McNally Jackson Books, New York, NY

The Waiting
By Kwan Sai Cheung-Kee, Janet Hong (Tran.)
(Drawn and Quarterly, 9781770462790, Paperback, $24.95, Nov 2)
"My first time reading a heavier historical graphic novel and I loved it. It opened my eyes to the Korean War, the families lost to each other, and the people alive today who still don’t know the status of their loved ones. Beautifully told!"
—Michael Kleber-Diggs, Michael Kleber-Diggs, Minneapolis, MN

All the Names Given: Poems
By Raymond Astridus
(Dove Books, 9781953188928, Paperback, $5, May 18)
"These meditations on family, history, nature, gender, disability, and love are heart wrenching and poignant. With powerful usage of the idea of closed captioning they invite the reader to consider—what does sound mean to us?"
—Meg Walker, Trencher’s Bookshop, East Sandwich, MA

Ex Libris
By Matt Madden
(Comixology, 9781609450770, Hardcover, $26.99/$21.99, May 22)
"Sure that I knew exactly what was going on and always on the case of being completely lost. I was captivated by the beautiful art and skilled pacing. Where most speculative fiction resembles pulp, Finn provides elegant understatement."
—Aud McManus, Treadwell Books, Portland, OR

Goldenrod: Poems
By Maggie Smith
(Plume, 9780593356074, Hardcover, $26.99, Nov 2)
"Another charm from Maggie Smith. I can’t wait to sell all the copies of this one. Lyrically written and endearing. So personal and altogether universal. She is just magic as a poet."
—Lucia Hagen, South Main Book Company, Salisbury, NC

I Hope This Finds You Well: Poems
By Kate Baer
(Octopus, 9780593356067, Paperback, $14.95, Nov 2)
"These lovely poems profess love and resilience and future. But paired with the messages that are their source material, they are profound testimonials to the power of words and art, something beauty builds in the most hateful speech."
—Susan Fischer, Discover Books, Cincinnati, OH

Celestia
By Kevin Fie, Jorrie Richards (Tran.)
(Pantheon Books, 9781524748067 , Hardcover, $30, July 13)
"Seek You: A Journey Through American Literature.
They also show the rich history of graphic novels and literature."
—Nikita Imafidon, Raven Book Store, Lawrence, KS

Search: You A Journey Through American Loneliness
By Kristen Rudite
(Paradigm Books, 9781642431839, Paperback, $19.99, Dec 2)
"Brown and black community here with unfiltered authenticity."
—Michael Kleber-Diggs, Michael Kleber-Diggs, Minneapolis, MN

The Waiting
By Kwan Sai Cheung-Kee, Janet Hong (Tran.)
(Drawn and Quarterly, 9781770462790, Paperback, $24.95, Nov 2)
"My first time reading a heavier historical graphic novel and I loved it. It opened my eyes to the Korean War, the families lost to each other, and the people alive today who still don’t know the status of their loved ones. Beautifully told!"
—Michael Kleber-Diggs, Michael Kleber-Diggs, Minneapolis, MN

Worldly Things
By Michael Kitter-Doigs
(Street Dreams, 9781948126795, Paperback, $16.99, Dec 21)
"Three issues of someone who live in the inner-river moving away from the race and just trying to find them a copy of Accuracy. Yelling. Michael captures the nuances of our black and brown community with selflessness authenticity."
—Roy Davis, Nest Chapter Booksellers, St. Paul, MN
The Heart Principle
By Helen Hoang

“...a heartful contemporary romance of characters who seem on unlikely tract, but have the potential to bring each other to life ways neither could have anticipated. Delight addresses concepts of love, identity, family, and mental health.”
—Charlie Hamilton, Brazilian Book, Davie, NC

A Lot Like Adios: A Novel
By Alexis Daria

“This book is a Between, [a] love story. It’s a love story. Love is the best therapy!”
—Adrienne Bailey. Story on The Square, McPherson, GA

The Chosen and the Beautiful
By Aki Okino

“...a spellbinding, capricious, and dark beauty.”
—Deanna Bailey, Story on The Square, McDonough, GA

The Inheritance of orquídea Divina: A Novel
By Zoraida Córdova

“...a spellbinding, capricious, and dark beauty.”
—Deanna Bailey, Story on The Square, McDonough, GA

Payback’s a Witch (The Witches of Thistle Grove #1)
By Laura Jasper

“...a fun and sexy romp through the Halloweentown many of us wish we lived in. Emmy comes home after years in...”
—Valeria Salas Ibarra, Front Street Books, Alpine, TX

The Queer Principles of Kit Webb: A Novel
By Carl Sebastian

“I totally adore this beautiful written novel that is a historical romance reader’s dream. Carl Sebastian shows us the heart of...”
—Jennifer Roper, Avid Bookshop, Athens, GA

A Psalm for the Wild-Built (Monk & Robot #1)
By Becky Chambers

“I was so happy to read this book and it’s not just for die-hard fans, which this book has plenty of, but for music, and love, and...”
—Kristine Jelstrom-Hamill, Buttonwood Books and Toys, Cohasset, MA

She Who Became the Sun
By Yen-Pin Lin

“...a story of two unlikely fathers wanting...”
—Abby Rice, Foggy Pine Books, Boone, NC

Light From Uncommon Stars
By Nyki Aski

“This is the future of speculative fiction, extending the innovation of Jemisin, Okorafor, Chiang, Liu, and many others who are changing our expectations of our society. It’s ambitious, impressive, and powerful.”
—Rocks & Roses, Print Books Plus, Boise, NC

No Gods, No Monsters (Convergence Saga #1)
By Cadyw Turner

“...a truly interesting and captivating...”
—Jocelyn Shratter, Bookshop Santa Cruz, Santa Cruz, CA

Razorblade Tears: A Novel
By Stephen Graham Jones

“...a thriller ride from the very...”
—Jocelyn Shratter, Bookshop Santa Cruz, Santa Cruz, CA

Razorblade Teardrops
By Sadie North

“...an intense piece of crime fiction and revenge. Social themes like racism, xenophobia, and family are explored in this world of...”
—Jordan Wells, Warwick, L.A., CA

She Who Became the Sun
By Yen-Pin Lin

“...a story of two unlikely fathers wanting...”
—Abby Rice, Foggy Pine Books, Boone, NC